SEMI-WEEKLY, 4 PAGES.

TELEGRAPHIC.

BATTLEFORD, June 19.
Bolt. Wyld, an old timer died at 3:15 p. m. on the 16th and was buried at 2 p. m. on the 18th. The funeral was the largest ever seen in Battleford. The deceased had been suffering from inflammatory rheumatism for six weeks.

WINNIPEG, June 19.
Charles McLennan has been released from prison.

Willie Wells was drowned in Winnipeg on Friday.

The counterpart of the Viking ship has arrived in New York.

Complications are feared in Samoa. The native chiefs are going to war.

Canada will carry off many prizes, particularly in dairy products, at the world's fair.

Dr. Sedgwick has been elected moderator of the general assembly meeting at Brantford.

Herbert Booth, commander of the Salvation Army is holding big meetings in Winnipeg.

The Princess of Wales is opposed to the approaching royal wedding, but cannot prevent it.

The Great Northern has cut rates to the Pacific by nearly half. Other lines will follow suit.

Three thousand delegates are expected at the great liberal convention which opens at Ottawa tomorrow.

A decision has been rendered in the World's Fair case, and the Fair will be open on Sunday in the future.

Reported that the Grand Trunk is for sale, and it is not unlikely that the sale will be made to an American and Canadian syndicate.

There is a serious revolt amongst the Irish members against the delay in passing the home rule bill, and it looks as if the Gladstone government might be upset.

The German elections occurred on Friday. The fate of the government is still in doubt but it looks as if the government was defeated and its army bill knocked out.

LOCAL.

TRAINS on time to-day.

THURSDAY'S train arrived about midnight. The Caroline Gage theatrical company is at Calgary.

Dr. True and wife left for Calgary on Friday's train.

Supt. Niblock visited Edmonton on last Monday's train.

Miss Lulu Taylor of Lake St. Ann, went to Calgary on Friday's train.

W. T. HENRY is erecting a dwelling 14x30, on Jasper avenue, west of Fielders' warehouse.

A CREAMERY will soon be in operation at Red Deer which will work up the milk of 1,200 cows.

REV. MR. HANNA, late of Medicine Hat, will succeed Rev. C. A. Procuier, in charge of the Methodist church at Edmonton.

REV. C. A. Procuier left for Revelstoke, B. C., on Friday's train. Mrs. Procuier will remain at Edmonton for a week or two.

Edmonton sports on July 1st will be on a much larger scale than on May 24th. Prizes to the amount of $1,000 will be offered and a bag time is expected.

WALTER ALFORD, contractor for the new government offices here, arrived on Thursday's train. He expects to have his contract finished in about a month.

The programme of the Calgary midsummer fair is to hand. It includes a great variety of sports and horse races extending over Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

THOS. TAYLOR of Lake St. Ann sent the BULLETIN a parcel of onions grown from seed sown this season, the bulbs of which measured an inch and half in diameter and the tops were two feet long.

P. L. McNAMARA, Fred Robertson and G. Grierson left for Calgary on Friday's train to take in the sports there during fair time which commences on Tuesday, June 20th and continues until the 23rd.

MR. LENOIR, of Geneva, Switzerland, who represents investors who hold $15,000,000 of C. P. R. stock, visited Edmonton on last Monday's train with Supt. Niblock and was driven around town by Mayor McCauley.

The horses and cattle of the Quorn ranch on High river, south of Calgary, are to be auctioned on July 5th, together with the interest of the company in the lease. W. Gordon Cumming, well known in Edmonton is one of the principal shareholders in this company.

A PETITION is being signed to have Third street on the H. B. Co. property graded between Jasper and Victoria avenues and to have a four foot sidewalk leave the present sidewalk on Jasper avenue at the H. B. store, run down Third street to Victoria avenue and thence along Victoria avenue to the St. Joachim's mission property, to be paid for by frontage tax.

ALEX. TAYLOR, postmaster, received instructions by last mail from post office inspector Macleod, instructing him to remove the postoffice into the premises now occupied for the purpose by W. S. Edmonstone adjoining P. Ross' drug store as soon as they were ready.

A. A. SEWART, of the well known Stewart stove manufacturing company, late of Hamilton and now of Woodstock, Ontario, arrived on Thursday's train on a business trip. He is on his way home from the Pacific coast and the Kootenay country. The reports of the mining boom in Kootenay have not been exaggerated. Kaslo had a population of 200 about this time last year. It now claims 2,500 and is increasing rapidly. Nelson is not growing now but is the terminus of the only railway in the district and will be the terminus of the one now being built from the United States boundary at Fort Shippard, which will make it an important railway centre. There is no doubt that the Kootenay region is one of the richest, mineral regions, if not the very richest, in the world.

ROADS muddy.

BEAVER lake, which has been steadily decreasing in depth for some years past, is now rising.

AN ENTERTAINMENT by the Sunday School children was given in the Methodist church last evening instead of the usual preaching service.

SCHOOL Insp. Hewgill went south on last Tuesday's train to inspect the schools down the line.

THE St. Jean Baptiste Society of Fort Saskatchewan will celebrate Saturday next, June 24th, by religious services, pic-nic, etc., in the Fort Saskatchewan settlement, north side.

FORT Saskatchewan will celebrate July 1st with horse races and sports on a large scale. Four hundred and fifty dollars is offered in prizes. The programme is long, varied and interesting.

MESSRS. H. Somers Somerset and Arthur H. Pollen of England left for Peace river on Wednesday last, accompanied by H. B. Round. They are going on a hunting trip and will be absent three or four months.

ON Saturday, before Mr. McCauley and John Cameron, J. P.'s R. Vance, charged with aggravated assault on Wm. Brunelle, was fined $25 and costs. S. S. Taylor appeared for the prosecutor Brunelle and J. C. F. Bown for the defendant.

THE cricket match on Saturday afternoon between the Fort Saskatchewan cricket club and Edmonton old timers resulted in favor of Fort Saskatchewan by 7 wickets and two runs. Dr. Wilson was captain of the Edmonton team and Constable Campbell of Fort Saskatchewan. Full score next issue.

A. W. R. MARKLEY, agent for the Confederation Life Company is in town. Mr. Markley has just returned from the east, taking in the Chicago fair on the way. He says the reports of overcharging visitors to the fair are grossly exaggerated, as also the reports of incivility of officials on the grounds. He found the charges moderate and officials very obliging. His only regret was that he could not spare time to remain longer.

THE assessment appeals of Jas. McDonald on behalf of Rev. E. B. Glass, Hickson estate, and A. Macdonald, and also those of S. S. & H. C. Taylor on behalf of the Hardisty estate, Methodist mission estate and David McDougall estate, were heard by the council sitting as a court of revision on Wednesday. No decisions were rendered. Other appeals will be heard at next council meeting on Wednesday.

THE Canada Gazette of June 10th contains notice that on and after January 1st, 1893, the game laws of the Northwest Territories shall apply to certain bands of Indians, which are mentioned. To those not mentioned they will not apply. The bands in this vicinity which must abide by the game laws are Michel of St. Albert, Knock of Stony Plain, Ermine Skin, Sampson, Bobtail and Muddy Bull of Bears' Hill. The Riviere Qui Barre, Lake St. Ann, Saddle lake, and Lac la Biche bands are exempt from the operations of the game laws. All the Indians of the plains are placed under their operation.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Winnipeg Tribune writing from Wetskiwin gives an account of the trip of a party of settlers from eastern Washington to Wetskiwin. They had been four weeks on the road. Part of their delay was caused by washouts on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways. Continuing their story the correspondent says: "Finally they reached Blackfoot, about thirty miles from the Canadian quarantine grounds south of Macleod in Southern Alberta. Here they disembarked their stock and drove them for several days, arriving at the quarantine ground on the Milk river. Here they found no Canadian government official to inspect their stock. So a messenger had to be sent at once on horseback to notify Dr. Allen, the customs collector at Macleod, to go down and pass the horses, the cattle having to go into quarantine for 90 days. How long, do you imagine, it took that collector to get there, a distance of 60 miles! Just five days! The law says explicitly that all live stock brought into Manitoba and the Northwest Territories by new settlers shall enter free, absolutely.

There is no restriction whatever, neither as regards future holding nor in regard to the number of such animals; nevertheless this collector of customs from Macleod compelled these men to pay 25 per cent duty on the greater number of these horses, contrary to law. Having been detained these five days, for no reason whatever, at quarantine, the party reached Macleod in time to learn that the train for Calgary, which runs only every third or fourth day, had left the previous day; so here they had to lose several days more. They reached Calgary on Wednesday night (this is Thursday) with all their ready cash spent, and had to negotiate drafts at the bank at 9 in the morning in order to get away to-day. They had in all eight cars of effects, one of which had been lying at Calgary for a fortnight."

EDMONTON BULLETIN JUNE 19th, 1893

TRAIN SERVICE.

If there is one thing more than another upon which the C. P. R. management has reason to pride itself it is the generally excellent train service over the company's lines, wherever they may run. The service is prompt, the officials obliging and the trains on time. The branch line between Calgary and Edmonton is one of the most important branches of the company's system, whether measured by the value of the country being opened up, by the rapidity with which it is being settled or by the increase in the burden of traffic which it carries. When the line was first opened in the fall of 1891 the train service over this branch was simply perfect, or as nearly so as anything in this cold, cruel and disappointing world is ever likely to be. The single train which ran over the road was well manned, it started on time and reached its journey's end on time. The whistle of the arriving engine was as regular as that of the steam mill. The hours of arrival and departure were the most convenient possible, and the arrangements of the semi-weekly service were such that Monday's train laid over until Wednesday, giving passengers who came by that train an opportunity to transact their business and yet get back with the least possible loss of time. Freight, too, came through most expeditiously. Once a car reached Calgary it came through to Edmonton by the next train without fail. This was in the fall of 1891 and the early part of 1892. It is not so now. Then a single train and crew ran over the 200 miles of road between Calgary and Edmonton twice a week. There was plenty of time in which to do the work, and rest and repair between runs. There was very little way freight handled and not nearly as much through freight as at present. With the opening of the Macleod branch of 100 miles last fall came a change. The same train and crew that handled the traffic of the Edmonton branch before now had to handle that of the Macleod branch as well. Their run each week was thus increased from 800 to 1,200 miles. Handling the Macleod branch necessitated leaving Edmonton both mornings after arrival. This compelled visitors who wished to see the country or do business to occupy five full days from Calgary instead of three as formerly, and at once prevented many desirable visitors from coming north at all. As the time of the train was fully occupied in running, detentions could not be made up and the schedule time kept. As detentions were frequent on the Macleod branch last winter from snow storms the train which formerly was most regular became very irregular, and as it increased in irregularity became still more a bugbear to travellers and visitors. Red Deer, Innisfail and Wetaskiwin, all smart growing towns, and now Leduc, Lacombe and Olds as well, were increasing their traffic, which meant loading and unloading more and more freight at each of these stations and shunting cars as well, all to be done by the one train and crew. The through traffic has also increased rapidly, so that ever since last fall the single train has been less and less able to pull the cars through, and they have been allowed to accumulate in the Calgary yard until there were enough to warrant the sending out of a special train. This has caused the most vexatious delays in freight so that after a merchant has made all the usual allowances for his freight to reach Calgary he must still be prepared to add the altogether unknown period of waiting for a special. Another duty which devolves upon this single train is repairing the telegraph line between Calgary and Edmonton. No repairs are kept on this line and when it goes down, which it did frequently last winter, it simply remained down until the train came along and the ordinary crew fixed it up. This break of telegraphic communication was a great inconvenience to the public and having to repair the line caused still further delay to the train. The recent change of time on the C. P. R., while quickening the time of arrival of the mails from the east—has still further added to the inconvenience of the passengers and has not added to the convenience of the mails. In order to make close connection at Calgary with the east train coming and going, the Edmonton train which formerly was timed for seven p. m. is now timed for 8:30, and the time of leaving has been changed from 8 a. m. to 7:15 a. m. Mails which formerly were delivered on the night of their arrival, are not now delivered until the next day, after the train has gone, thus rendering an answer to correspondence within less than three days delay impossible. Bad as the time of arrival as set down in the time table is, the fact that the train is frequently unavoidably behind time, does not add to the advantage of the situation. The fact simply is that the company is making one train do the work of two trains. Let any person consider the work involved and time occupied in running a mixed train on necessarily slow time, 1,200 miles a week making up trains at Calgary twice a week, for Edmonton and way points, and the same for Macleod and way points, delivering freight and shunting at eight important way stations four times a week, bucking snow in winter and repairing telegraph lines as well, not to mention delays caused by waiting for the main line train, and then say whether or not the service is likely to be satisfactory or such as will tend to the prosperity and development of the country.

Of course it is very easy to say that even the present service is better than the old stage line and freight wagon. Also that as long as the company can do the work with one train they would be foolish to go to the expense of putting on a second. But on the other hand the country is paying for something better than the old stage line and freight wagon; and also, just as the traffic of the country has increased enormously owing to the facilities given by the railway, so superior facilities would lead to its still further increase. If traffic on the road were decreasing and the country going down hill the company might be excused for pursuing a niggardly policy regarding the train service. But when as a matter of fact it is the progress and prosperity of the country which has rendered the present service inadequate there is no excuse for the company which has more to profit by that prosperity than any other existing institution or interest not pursuing a progressive policy which shall still further add to that prosperity. Passengers from the east complain that the most wearying part of their journey is that from Calgary to Edmonton, with its slow time, tedious delays, inconvenient meal hours and late arrival, especially if delayed. No part of the C. P. R. lines offers greater inducements in the way of sport and scenery to tourist travel than the Calgary & Edmonton branch. But tourists will only travel in these days where travelling is a pleasure and not a labor. They don't have to do otherwise. The country has progressed to such an extent as to entitle it to a better service than it receives at present, and to such an extent that unless it receives that better service its progress will be seriously retarded; which would certainly be more loss to the railway company than any one else, although probably the company would best able to stand it.

THE NELSON BOOM.

During his recent visit to Nelson, B. C., President Van Horne said: "As you are perhaps aware the C. P. R. has had outfit of engineers in various portions of this region for several years. These have been busy in looking for the most practicable route through the country south of here. The reason of this slow progress is simply that in this part of the world mistakes in railroad building are entirely too costly not to warrant the taking of every precaution to avoid them. The narrow gauge from Lethbridge down to the Crow's Nest Pass has been purchased, and our engineers are now working in the pass with a view to finally determining the exact route for connecting that branch with the system west of the Rockies."

"It is early in the day to attempt to state definitely just where the new line will run and where it will connect, as much of that will depend on the results of this season's engineering. Of one thing, however, you may rest assured. Nelson will be the future railroad centre of this portion of British Columbia. I say this after a careful study of the entire situation. There may be other towns that in time will grow to equal size, but this place is by reason of its natural advantages of location and the ease with which the surrounding country can be reached, destined to be the receiving and distributing point. It is to be hoped the business men of Nelson will realize this sufficiently to feel encouraged to the erection of a better class of buildings than are found in the average mining camp. I am pleased to see that such is, in many instances, already being done. Nelson has long since passed the mining camp stage and should from now on have a steady and solid growth."

PRESENTATION.

On Thursday evening the members of Edmonton lodge of Free Masons presented the following address to Rev. C. A. Procmier, chaplain of the lodge, on the eve of his departure for his new field of labor at Revelstoke:

EDMONTON, 15th June, 1893.

To the
REV. C. A. PROCMIER,
DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—

As you are about to leave our midst for another field of labor, we cannot let this opportunity pass without showing the high esteem in which you are held among the brethren, and on their behalf to present you with this token, as a slight token of appreciation of the admirable and praiseworthy manner in which you have discharged the responsible duties pertaining to your masonic position. Your high character, integrity and unswerving loyalty, have not only won the confidence and esteem of your brethren, but also those brought into immediate contact with you, so that you have reached the position, one that is not only a credit to yourself but to the country at large.

That you may long continue in the service which you so admirably adorn is the wish of the brethren of the Edmonton Masonic Lodge. With this souvenir we wish you and yours health, happiness and prosperity, which alone can come through the great and beneficent Author of our existence.

Signed by the officers on behalf of the Edmonton Lodge.

The address was accompanied by a handsome gold locket, having a masonic emblem in raised work on one side, and the name of the recipient on the other.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, ALBERTA.

A rumor, which interests Northern Alberta more than anything else possibly can, is that Jim Hill's road, (Great Northern) is likely to take over the Northern Pacific railway branches in Manitoba, also the Northwest Central road as far as already built, and its charter to the Yellow Head (Jasper) Pass, (it holds the only charter as yet through Manitoba and the Territories to this pass) and there make connection with the British Pacific railway from Victoria to B. C. Construction to commence in British Columbia and Manitoba at the same time. If there is any truth in this, it will do more to settle the emigration question, than if millions of dollars were spent yearly, in sending agents to seek, and advertisements to induce new settlers to come and settle on our several hundred million acres of still vacant lands from Manitoba west. We are getting a number of new settlers, but in comparison to what it would be, if a railway were built through the route spoken of, it is as if we were to send a needle lost in a stack of hay. Almost the first question any person looking for land asks, is: When are you going to have a railway from the east to British Columbia, so as to open up a direct route? The only answer we can give is a French one—namely: shrug our shoulders. Then they say, but how is it now that a large number of millions of acres are marked in red, as if they were owned by the Dominion government, and why are they not being sold? The answer is: because the Dominion government means by granting any railway such an enormous quantity of land in the richest portion of the whole Dominion, before any railway was built by them through their grant? We have only to smile, and smile, and suggest that the "beastly Chinese is not in it" when a trifling transaction of this kind is on, between the Dominion government and the Canadian Pacific syndicate. The growth, or welfare, of our fair Dominion, is a very secondary consideration in the eyes of our statement? Mr. Van Horne, is Canada's Napoleon, he can hypnotize the whole Dominion cabinet, and as for the poor ordinary member of parliament, he only holds up his finger and says "shoo fly" and cabinet and all members combined are hypnotized—and the deed is done.

A cricket match between the Clover Bar team, and Fort Saskatchewan, took place on the 8th and resulted in the latter's favor. Some transactions in town lots again this week.

The weather keeps showery and the crops are looking well.

The police guard room at the moment contains an unfortunate man named Adam Boyle, who had to be taken in charge last Sunday at Edmonton, being out of his mind. Why lunatics should be sent here at all to the police guard room, instead of being sent to an asylum, is a conundrum. It is most unjust to any member of the force to have to be placed in the same room as a lunatic, if, as is often the case, some slight breach of discipline has been made by him, and he is placed in the guard room.

14th June, 1893.

Brampton, Ontario, Conservator: There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among those who contracted for space in the Saturday Globe of two weeks ago. Only two of the number, we are informed, have accepted the drafts, on the ground that the paper is not as was represented it should be. Some members of the council declare their intention of opposing the payment of the $100 voted by the town on the same grounds. It is probable the town may receive as much notoriety before the affair is settled as it did by the write up.

Free Press: Neat posters have been received from A. R. Code, Dominion immigration agent for the northern portion of Michigan, announcing a farmers' excursion from that state to Manitoba and the Territories on July 16 via the "Soo." One of the objects is to give the settlers on opportunity of seeing the Winnipeg Industrial exhibition. A large number, it is expected, will accompany Mr. Code.

Winnipeg Tribune: "It was one thing to be a member of a great party led by Sir John Macdonald; it is another to be the servant of a party machine led by men of the stamp of Caron, Haggart, Daly, et al."

Petroleum! PETROLEUM!

For some months past it has been known that an important discovery of indications of Petroleum, had been made at Egg Lake, about 18 miles northwest of

Fort Saskatchewan

Some believed it and others did not. However, Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, of the Dominion Government Geological Survey, has visited the Lake, and satisfied himself that there are ample indications to warrant development operations being begun. (Vide, Edmonton "Bulletin," of 1st Instant.) This being so—what do the Dominion and Territorial Governments, and also the Canadian Pacific Railway, propose to do about it? And when? All three are equally interested. It is the duty of every person in Northern Alberta to make the most of such an important discovery of mineral wealth in our district, and to keep things agitated until something is done to develop—or are we all dead to the advantages to be gained?

The seizure of three North Dakota elevators for debt that was made recently and caused so much remark, was at the suit of two Toronto banks, the Commerce and Toronto, who are creditors to the amount of about $100,000 each. Let us see. Is it not the influx of United States capital into Canada as a consequence of unrestricted reciprocity annexation, upon which Canada depends to save it from financial destruction and develop its resources—according to the Toronto Globe and a few other Canadian papers? Perhaps if the matter was looked into it would be found that Canadian investments in the States during the last twenty years are on a somewhat similar footing to our contributions of population to that country in the same time. Canada needs a policy that will keep our own men and our own money to develop our own resources.

Free Press editorial: "The crop of last year was sold at unusually low figures. Wheat fetched from forty-five to fifty cents a bushel, and barley and oats were around one and fifteen, eighteen and twenty cents. It doesn't pay to farm at these prices. There is little wonder that a storm arose over freight rates. It was felt that another experience like last year's would be disastrous. This is why people come from the exclusive grain regions to Edmonton to go into mixed farming."

Toronto News: The Imperial government will, it is said, declare the July convention of the Ulster Defence Association illegal. If this is done Ulsterites and their Canadian sympathizers cannot well refrain from making good their threats of resistance and the place for Clarke Wallace will then be among those called upon to line ditches in Ireland instead of with the stalwarts who are trying to whip the Orange vote into line for Thompson in Cardwell.

Calgary Herald: A train of 15 cars of beef cattle went west yesterday. One car was shipped from Calgary by Messrs. Hull Bros. & Co., the balance being the property of Burns and McInnis. Twelve cars of these cattle were purchased in Manitoba and were loaded at Brandon, and two came from the Cochrane Cattle Co's ranges.

Calgary Herald: We are glad to learn that Bishop Grandin has almost completely recovered from the severe operation, which he went to Paris to undergo, and intends to return to his diocese in the fall. He is at present in Rome. Fathers Leduc and Grandin will return from Europe next month.

Calgary Herald: Mr. W. Herriot, of Hople, N. D., who is one of the chief promoters of the proposed oatmeal mill, has written Councillor Hutchings that he will be back in Calgary in about six weeks.
